BAD FOR FIREBUG KLEIN.

DAMAGING TESTIMONY AT HIS TRIAL IN BROOKLYN.

Mothman, the Convict, and Glackman of the Gong Tell of the Preparations for the Fire at Kicia's House-Rosenbaum Testifies as to How It Was Done. Considerable progress was made yesterday in the trial of Jacob Klein, one of the alleged Brooklyn firebugs, in the County Court. A jury was secured early in the afternoon, and several witnesses, whose testimony bore severely against the accused, were examined. The indictment charged arson in the first degree. house, at 74 Johnson avenue, early on the night of June 30, 1894. He was jointly indicted with Adolph Hirschkopf, who is in the Tombs awalt-ing trial for murder in connection with an incendiary fire he is accused of having started in this city. In his opening address yesterday Assistant District Attorney Miles, who is conducting the prosecution, said that Hirschkopf proposed to Klein to get insured for $800 and that he would get $700 of the money. The policy was issued by the Hartford Insurance Company in the April preceding the fire. On the 20th of June Hirschkopf and Max Gluckman went to the Johnson avenue house and arranged the plans for the fire. Klein waited in Hirschkopf's house until the man who was sent over to Brooklyn came back and reported that the fire had taken place and that the job was all right Representatives of the insurance company testified that Klein had put in a claim for $1,100, and had received $665. The testimony of the firemen showed that the blaze had been started in a dark room.

Louis Rothman, one of the New York firebugs, who was convicted and sent up for fifteen years, was brought down from Sing Sing, and appeared as the first important witness for the prosecution. He testified that he met Klein wice in June, 1894, at Hirschkopf's house in this city. He was afterward taken to Klein's house in Brooklyn by Schler Rosenbaum and Max Gluckman, and saw Klein there. On the day of the fire Hirschkopf told him to come to his house and he would send him to Brooklyn day of the fire Hirschkopf told him to come to his house and he would send him to Brocklyn to do a job.

"He told me," the witness continued, "not to be alraid to set fire to Klein's house, as the Fire Marshal and everybody else knew all about it. I went over that night so Klein's house and saw a woman and child in the kitchen. Hirschkopf had told me to scatter oil around and the woman would set fire to it. I did as I was told and returned to Hirschkopf's house at 9 o'clock."

On cross-examination b, Robert H. Elder the witness said that Hirschkopf had promised to pay him well for setting fire to Kiein's house. He said that the woman who was there and actually started the fire was Mrs. Silvermeister, who is serving a term for aroon in Auburn.

Max Glückman, who has been in the Tombs for a year awaiting trial for aroon, was the next witness. He testified that he met Klein about three months before the fire occurred at Hirschkopf's house.

three months before the fire occurred at Hirsch-kopf's house.

"On the night before the fire," he continued,
"I went with Hirschkopf to Klein's house at 11 octock. Klein was in bed. Hirschkopf said to Klein, "To-morrow I'll send a man over to make the fire. You go sway in the morning as usual." Klein said he had prepared muslin to be saturated with oil in the closet, and he showed us a bundle of muslin. Hirschkopf then told Klein to remove a sewing machine that was in the closet so as not to interfere with the flames. Klein asked Hirschkopf: "Have you seen the Fire Marshai?" Hirschkopf said:
"Don't be afraid. I saw everybody this morning. Don't you come home to-morrow until you have seen me at my house."
Giltekman also swore that he saw in Klein's house the same set of black furniture he had seen at Hirschkopf's house a week before.

"Did you know that lives were to be endangered by the fire?" Mr. Elder asked the convict firebug.
"I didn't bother about that "was the coal re-"I didn't bother about that," was the cool re-

"I didn't bother about that," was the cool response.

Schier Rosenbaum testified that he saw Klein fifteen or twenty times at Hirschkopf's house, he was at Hirschkopf shouse on the afternoon of the day the fire occurred. Mrs. Hirschkopf told him that Klein would soon have lots of money and that he intended to get married. Hirschkopf said he would send Rothman and Mrs. Silvermeister to set fire to Kiein's house. After the fire Hirschkopf congratulated Klein. When Klein spoke about fearing arrest Hirschkopf said:

"You need have no fear as everything is all right. I saw the Fire Marshal this morning." Assistant District Attorney Miles-Are you not the man that knocked out the firebugs in New York? New York?

Instead of replying directly the witness exhibited his hands badly scarred from the effects of vitriot, which he said had been thrown on him in Lynn, Mass, by Hirschkopf. He denied that he bore any malice against Hirschkopf. He admitted that he had been under arrest for a short time, several years ago, for arson, and said that Mr. Miles was his coursei. He had seen Klein at the jail since his arrest, but was not allowed to testify as to what statements Klein made to him.

Joseph Braun testified that previous to the allowed to testify as to what statements Klein made to him.

Joseph Braun testified that provious to the fire Hirschkopf paid him some money on Klein's account, and that after the fire Klein himself promptly liquidated an indebtedness of $30.

Chief Detective Sergeant James Reynolds of the Headquarter's squad was sworn as the next witness, but the taking of his testimony was postponed until this morning. He is the officer who brought Klein from Philadelphia after his arrest there in March, and to whom was supposed Klein made certain admissions.

The trial will probably last two or three days. Its result it is thought, may have an important bearing on the case of ex-Fire Marshai Benjamin F. Lewis and ex-Detective Sergeant George Zundt, who have been indicted for conspiracy, in having, as allexel, tried to railroad William Wenig to prison, so as to checkmare him in his efforts to expose Klein and the other fire bugs. Zundt was attached to Lewis's office for special detective work at the time of the Klein fire. Both emphatically deny all the stories connecting them in any guilty manuer whatever with Hirschkonf or his associates. Mr. Lewis's trial og them in any guilty manner whatever with Hirschkopf or his associates. Mr. Lewis's trial has been set down for June 25.

OSSMAN TRACKED THE THIEVES. Followed Them from Williamsburgh to New York to Get a Policeman.

While George Ossman, a member of the Wyona Athletic Club, was in the headquarters of the organization, at 202 Stage street, Williamsburgh, alone on Monday evening, he saw Alexander Brickner and Bernard Kaiser trying get in at a back window. They failed at the window, but by means of false keys they opened a door and stole several cheap articles They also took $1.45 from a drawer. Ossman ved them out of the front entrance, in tending to turn them over to a policeman. The thieves went along Graham avenue to Seige thieves went along Graham avenue to Seigel street, and turned to go to Broadway. Ossman kept a sharp lookout for a policoman, but he says he couldn't see any. He followed the men down Broadway to the Roosevelt Street Ferry and crossed the ferry to this city with them. He came across a policeman of the Leonard street station, to whom he told the story.

The policeman arrested the two, and they were detained at the station house until Ossman returned to Williamsburgh. He went to the Stagg street police station and reported the robbery. The police were satisfied, after an investigation, that the club house had been forcibly entered and robbed. Detective Becker came to this city and the prisoners were turned over to him. They were arraigned in the Ewen Street Police Court yesterday on the charge of burglary, and sustice Lemon held each in $1,000 bail for a hearing. Half a dozen policemen are always stationed at the Broadway ferries in Williamsburgh. Ossman said in court that he didn't see them.

CARMILIA GIROLANI'S DEATH. A Brooklyn Midwife Under Arrest for Responsibility for It. Carmilia Girolani, a sixteen-year-old Italian giri, died on Monday at her home, 78 Front street, Brooklyn, from the effects, as alleged, of a criminal operation, and Mrs. Elizabeth Benson, a midwife of 396 Columbia street, and Isabelia Thosson, her assistant, are under arrest The girl lived with her mother and stepfather, s barber. Carmilia became intimate some months ago with Alacio Barroso, aged 16 years, who was employed in her stepfather's shop, and her mother made an attempt to have him marry her. Alarie sant he would do it for $300, but the mother was unwilling to make her daugh-ter's dowry more than $150.

ter's dowry more than $150.

A warrant was then obtained for the arrest of the young barber, but he disappeared before it could be served, and, it is said, returned to italy. A week ago Carmilia was placed under the care of Mrs. Benson, and on Friday returned to her home. Dr. Michel Assoia of 65 Front street was summoned a few hours before the girl's death. The autopsy showed that death resuited from peritonitis, but did not disclose whether a crime had been committed or not. The accused will be held pending Coroner Coombs's investigation.

HAD A SPELL PUT UPON HER. The Seventh Mon of a Seventh Son Arrested for Trying to Break It.

MONTCLAIR, N. J., June 2.- The cards of colored man calling himself Prof. Z. Shavuo, and known in this town as a voodoo doctor, indicate that he is to be found at 32 Arlington street, Newark, and at 15 John street, Yonkers. He was arrested last night on a charge of practising medicine without a diploma. Mrs. W. H. Harris of Bloomfield avenue has become insane. it is alleged, as a result of his treatment of her case. He told a reporter that he was the seventh son of a seventh son, and that he relieved pain by gently rubbing the parts affected. Straightway the pain would leave the patient and go to him. He said that he had treated Mrs. Harris boiling inside of her," and that some one had person was trying to make away with her by poison, and I gave her some roots and herbs, which I gather by the direction of God."

The prisoner was taken before the Recorder, and W. H. Harris declared that he had begun to treat his wife about three weeks ago, telling her that there was a speil upon her which must be broken before she could get well, and that he would guarantee to break the spell before Memorial Dav for $5. The "Professor" had told his wife that the physicians, Drs. Case and Francis, who had been attending her, were friends of her husband and that she ought not to have them coming to see her. The woman took the concection of roots, herbs, and gin, and afterward comhusband and that she ought not to have them coming to see her. The woman took the concoction of roots, herbs, and gin, and afterward complained of a burning sensation which was almost unbearable. She kept getting werse.

The prisoner said in his own behalf that he was a medium and a seventh son of a seventh son. He said he gave the woman some medicine to break a spell that had been put upon her by her husband and others, if she had taken all the medicine the spell would have been broken. He admitted that he did not have a diploma.

It was testified that he had treated Mrs. Samuel Mason, Mrs. Robert Jones, and Mrs. Mary Jackson, all colored, for alleged spells that had been put on them by designing friends or relatives. Drs. Case and Francis declare that Mrs. Harris had been suffering with consumption. The Recorder remanded the prisoner to the county jail.

GARBAGE CONTRACT AWARDED.

New York Sanitary Supply Company to Dispose of the Stuff for $89,000,

The contract for final disposition of the city's garbage was awarded by the Board of Estimate Company, which offered to do the work for $89,000. But the contract was not let without a struggle on the part of two of the unsuccess-

Joseph H. Choate appeared for the Sanitary Company. He said that the Duffy system had a suit on its hands in Pittsburgh which would eventually cost it much money, and perhaps drive it from the city. He presented a large number of testimonials as to the excellence of the system he represented.

J. F. Mayo, speaking for Z. F. McGill of Troy, said that McGill's was the only perfect system. Mr. Adams attacked the Sanitary Company's system, saying that the effluent water from the garbage, amounting to 125,000 gallons for 800 tons of garbage, would befoul the waters of the bay. He produced a phial which contained a dark-colored, vite-smelling stuff which he said came from the company's works in Philadelphia. The chemist of the New York company said that the specimen of effluent water was not bona fide.

that the specimen of effluent water was not bons fide.

After much more talk, Comptroller Fitch asked Col. Waring to formally endorse the Sanitary Company's system, which he did by saying that all the systems were about equal in merit, and that considering the price, the Sanitary Company's bid was the best. So it got the contract, Mr. Jeroloman vating for Duffy.

The company must be prepared to begin operation in August. Its system is the reduction of the garbage by boiling, pressing, and grinding to a dry fertilizer.

A motion was passed instructing Commissioner Waring to advertise at once the sale of the privilege of trimming the scows.

COMSTOCK RAIDS POLICY SHOPS.

One in Broadway and the Other in Ann Street-Three Prisoners Nabbed.

Anthony Comstock and his assistants raided two alleged policy shops yesterday and captured three prisoners and two complete policy layouts. One of the places raided was a rear room on the third floor of the Knox building at 212 Broadway, Edward Barker and Frank Robert were caught there. The other place was on the second floor of 19 Ann street, where "Edwards second floor of 19 Ann street, where "Edwards & Co., real estate," did business. This place is run by George Costigan, who has been in the policy business for fifteen years, according to Comstock, and used to be at 9 Ann atreet. One George Wilson was captured here while he was actually selling slips to two negroes.

The prisoners were arraigned in the afternoon at the Centre Street Court. Wilson waived examination, and was held for trial in $1,000 bail. Barker and Robert were held in the same sum each for examination to-day. Comstock says that Barker was convicted of a similar offence about two years ago, and that he shall try now to have him convicted for a second offence, in which case he will get the full penalty of the law—two years imprisonment. A lot of San Domingo lottery tickets were found in each place.

Proposed Bank Eule About Endorsements.

Proposed Bank Rule About Endorsements. A special meeting of the New York Clearing House Association has been called for to-mor row afternoon to consider the report of the special Committee on Endorsoments. Under a recent decision of the Court of Appeals of this recent decision of the Court of Appeals of this State a bank which receives and collects a draft sent to it endorsed "for collection." in case a forgery has been committed, cannot be held liable by the defrauded bank, whose recourse is against the person to whom the money was ultimately paid. The report of the special committee recommends that the members of the association shall not send through the exchanges any paper having on it any qualified or restrictive endorsement, such as "for collection" or "for account of" unless all endorsements thereon are guaranteed by the bank member of the association which sends in such checks, drafts, notes, bills of exchange, or other paper. The committee recommends that a direction giving notice of such ruling shall be sent to its correspondents by each bank.

It is said that there is a clue to those who brought the clothing into this port, and that Commissioner Shields has issued warrants for their arrest.

MUSTN'T BOW AT PRAYERS.

AN AGNOSTIC PEDDLER'S CHIL-DREN TAKEN OUT OF SCHOOL.

Pana Oblects to Their Attending Any Religious Exercises and Writes Letters About the Worship of an Unseen Phan-tom and About Corporal Punishment, A tow-headed nine-year-old boy has created a disturbance altogether disproportionate to his size in Primary School 22, in East Eleventh street. His name is Carl Bittner, and his father is an agnostic. The boy himself believes as he thinks the person questioning him prefers him to believe. He makes statements of fact under the same sort of inspiration. He is one of the boys who promptly and with a feeble smile says "Yes, sir," when asked if he wishes to be killed by his interviewer. In the light of this characteristic the muss in No. 22 is easy of ex-

Carl has two sisters in the school-Martha aged 10, and Emma, aged 6. On April 31 the father, Gustav Bittner, a book peddler, who lives at 130 East Fourth street, informed the principal of the school, Miss Margaret B. Milton, that he did not wish his children to be compelled to join in the worship of an "unseen polled to join in the worship of an "unseen plantom." He also warned the teachers against "beating" Carl.

The opening exercises consist simply of reading a short selection from the Bible, without comment, and the repetition of the Lord's Prayer. Miss Milton instructed the Bittner children not to join in the prayers, but to fold their arms and bow their heads in conformity with the rest of the children, thereby avoiding unnecessary comment and disorder. Martha protested, saying that she wanted to pray and didn't care what her father said. For this Miss Milton reprimanded her and told her to wait for years of discretion before she presumed to disobey her father.

On Monday morning of the present week, when the older children assembled for the opening exercises, Miss L. E. Hanta, the boy's teacher, noticed that he was sitting boit upright and snickering. Miss Hanta whispered to Carl to bow his head. He did so, almost imperceptibly, but continued to snicker.

After the noon recess he brought a note from his father protesting against the enforcement of religious exercises and against "corporal punishment." The children did not return to school yesterday morning.

Miss Milton and Miss Banta agree in saying ishment." The children did not return to school yesterday morning.

Miss Milton and Miss Banta agree in saying that the Bittners have always been good, industrious pupils. The whole difficulty is attributed to the father's instructions. There has never been any corporal punishment in 22, the principal says, nor any attempt to force children into religious observances against the wishes of parents.

into religious observances against the wishes of parents.

Hiram Merritt of 53 Third avenue, who is Chairman of the Board of Trustees, and will be an inspector under the new law, said that no child was required to pray against its parents wishes. Mr. Merritt is a Methodist. Dr. Henry Krollpfeiger of 48 St. Mark's piace, Chairman of the Trustees' Committee on Discipline, said:

"Though I am an agnostic myseif I believe in the opening exercises. They certainly are moral and can't corrupt anybody. But I will sign my name to any statement you write saying that no attempt has ever been made in our district to influence a child's religious belief. Children must keep order and con'orm to school rules in their behavior at prayers as much as at recitations."

The Hittners were very voluble in the rehearsal of the alleged abuses heaped upon Carl. The little girls, who thought that the reporter didn't understand German, interpreted industriously and conservatively.

THREE SHOPLIFTERS ARRESTED Their Accorers the Women Detectives of Three Dry Goods Stores.

Three women detectives from as many dry goods stores appeared in Jefferson Market Court yesterday as complainants against three alleged shoplifters. The first prisoner arraigned was Mrs. Kate White of 314 East Forty-second street. She said that she was a widow with three children to support. Her eldest daughter, 20 years old, was in court and wept bitterly when her mother was brought before the bar. The complainant was Miss Mamte Clancy, who described herself as a detective in the employ of Hilton, Hughes & Co. She said that she had noticed the woman and her daughter in the store, and had suspected the former because of the fact that she were a very long cape. She watched the wo man closely and saw her take two bolts of silk and conceal them under her cloak. The two pieces contained sixty-nine yards and were valued at $90.54. Miss Clancy detained the woman and sent for a policeman. The silk was recovered. The charge against Mrs. White was grand larceny, and Magistrate Simms beid her in $1,000 for trial.

Mrs. Jennie V. O'Connor, who is employed by Ehrich Bros., appeared as complainant against a young girl who said that she was Mary Siner, 15 years old, of 28 Otten street, Phibadelphia. Mrs. O'Connor said that the girl when in her employers store dropped her handkerchief over three gold rings and picked them up inside the handkerchief. The value of the rings was $38.38, at bargain counter prices.

them up inside the handkerchief. The value of the rings was $38.38, at bargain counter prices.

The girl said that she was visiting her brother in this city and that, while walking on Sixth avenue reserving morning, she was accosted by a woman who told her how to steal the jewelry, and promised to pay her for it. She had never stolen before and had been beguiled by the woman's description of the case with which she could make money by shoplifting. She was held in $500 for trial.

The third prisoner gave her name as Ella Smith. She was caught stealing in James McCreery & Co.'s store in West Twenty-third street by Miss Louise Alexander, the woman detective of the firm. Miss Alexander said that she saw the prisoner take two pieces of silk from the counters and conceal them beneath her dress. She followed the woman to Twenty-first street; and arrested her in a hall there. The value of the silk was $10. The prisoner was held in $300 bail for trial.
